Trimester 1 2009

MACQUARIE UNIVERSITY
FACULTY OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS
ACCG855 CORPORATE ACCOUNTING
UNIT OUTLINE

Year and Semester: Trimester 1, 2009

Unit convenor: Emma Holmes

Prerequisites: ACCG862 Financial Accounting (P)

Students in this unit should read this unit outline carefully at the start of trimester. It contains important information about the unit. If anything in it is unclear, please consult one of the teaching staff in the unit.

ABOUT THIS UNIT

- ACCG855 is the third unit in the financial accounting sequence of units within the PGDip/Masters of Accounting Program. It follows on from ACCG862 Financial Accounting, with is a pre-requisite and is in turn followed by ACCG859 Current Issues in Accounting. ACCG855 is a core unit of study for students intending to study the further programs offered by CPA Australia or the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia.
- This unit focuses on the accounting issues that pertain to the corporate form of organisations operating in the private sector. It commences with an in-depth study of the requirements for the preparation of financial statements for a group of companies operating under common control and continues onto examining accounting issues pertaining to foreign operations and accounting for other types of investment.
- Students successfully completing this unit will be awarded 3 credit points.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES AND OUTCOMES

The learning outcomes of this unit are:

- Prepare consolidated financial statements, including:
 - Determine when companies are required to prepare consolidated financial statements
 - Identification and recognition of fair value adjustments
 - Calculation and treatment of goodwill and excess
 - Accounting for intra-entity transactions and balances
 - Accounting for minority interest, direct and indirect
- Account for investments in foreign operations, including:
 - Determining the functional currency of foreign operations
 - Translate the financial statements of foreign operations
 - Prepare consolidation journals in respect of investments in foreign subsidiaries
 - Account for a net investment in a foreign investment
- Determine and apply the appropriate accounting treatment for investments in associates
- Determine and apply the appropriate accounting treatment for interests joint ventures
- Compare and contrast the consolidation, equity and joint venture methods of accounting.

In addition to the discipline-based learning objectives, all academic programs at Macquarie seek to develop students' generic skills in a range of areas. One of the aims of this unit is that students develop their skills in written communication, critical analysis and creative thinking.

TEACHING AND LEARNING STRATEGY

- Page 10 of this outline contains a list of the topics that will be covered in classes over the duration of the trimester. Also included are details of weekly readings, weekly homework questions and additional self-study questions.

Class structure

- Each session will involve a tutorial segment, discussing assigned weekly homework questions from the previous week. The session will then continue with a lecture covering the next topic.
- You are not required to have completed the weekly reading prior to attending the weekly lecture. However, the content within the readings is examinable and you are expected to have completed the readings prior to attempting relevant assessment tasks.

Weekly homework questions (mandatory)

- You are required to prepare solutions to the weekly homework questions prior to attending the following class. As solutions to selected weekly homework questions will be discussed in class, this gives you an opportunity to discuss any problems or difficulties you are experiencing with the subject content.
- Solutions to weekly homework questions will be placed online (learn.mq.edu.au) on the Friday evening of the week following the lecture.

Weekly self-study questions (optional)

- Solutions to additional weekly self-study questions for all weeks will be placed online (learn.mq.edu.au) at the beginning of the trimester. For theory questions, brief summaries are included in the solutions to add to your own work and notes from discussion in the session.

Solutions will NOT be provided for the Topic 10 in-class case study.

Communication skills

To assist students in developing their communication skills a session will be run during normal class time by representatives from CME during the week commencing Monday 23rd February.

This session will be focussed on report writing. The session will be interactive and attendance is compulsory for all students. Material covered in this session will be assessed as part of the written assignment.

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN ASSESSMENT AND LEARNING OUTCOMES

The assessment for the unit will consist of the following components:

i)	Computer based assignments	15
ii)	Mid-term examination	35
iii)	Written assignment	15
iv)	Final examination	35
		100

i) Computer based assignments

Date: various (refer below for details)

Assessment percentage: 15% (out of 100% total)

Assignment #	Topics covered	% age	Due date	Feedback available
1	2 & 3	5	Mon classes – 10pm Tues 10 th Feb. Wed class – 10pm Fri 13 th Feb. Fri class – 10pm Sat 14 th Feb.	Tues 17 th Feb.
2	4 & 5	5	Mon classes – 10pm Tues 24 th Feb. Wed class – 10pm Fri 27 th Feb. Fri class – 10pm Sat 28 th Feb.	Tues 3 rd Mar.
3	7	5	Mon classes – 10pm Tues 17 th Mar. Wed class – 10pm Fri 20 th Mar. Fri class – 10pm Sat 21 st Mar.	Tues 24 th Mar.
TOTAL WEIGHTING		15

During the trimester, you will be required to complete and submit 3 computer (excel) based assignments. Detailed information on how to complete and submit these assignments will be provided to you in week 1 of lectures.

A penalty of 20% per day (or part thereof) for late submission will be applied to each assignment. Any assignment submitted more than 5 days late will receive a mark of zero.

Results and individual feedback will be provided by e-mail for each assignment by the dates specified above.

ii) Mid Term Examination

Date: Saturday 7th March 2009, time and location TBA

Assessment percentage: 35% (out of 100% total)

The mid trimester examination will be a 2 ½ hour written exam. This examination will examine material covered in Topics 1 to 5. The examination will comprise of a number of written questions as well as multiple choice questions.

Results for the mid-term examination will be placed on the ACCG855 website no later than Friday 20th March 2009. A breakdown of the total marks between those received for the written component and those received for the theory component will be provided.

iii) Written Assignment

Due: 6pm, Friday 27th March, 2009

Assessment percentage: 15% (out of 100% total)

Details of the assignment will be provided in class during the week commencing Monday 23rd February. A copy of the assignment requirements will also be placed online after that date.

All students will be required to submit assignments electronically to the Turnitin website. When you submit your assignment the Turnitin website will produce an Originality Report. The Originality Report must be printed and submitted in hard copy with your assignment.

You will require the information below to use Turnitin as a student enrolled in ACCG855.

Class ID: 2541023
Enrolment Password: ACCG855

You will need the above Class ID and Enrolment Password when you add this unit to your existing Turnitin user profile. If you need help with this you should refer to section 3 "Enrolling in a new Class" of your Turnitin Student User Guide.

Marks and individual feedback for the written assignment will be available for collection from ERIC on Thursday 9th April 2009.

iv) Final Examination

Date: During the University Examination period from 14 April 2009 to 20 April 2009.

Assessment percentage: 35% (out of 100% total)

The final examination will be a 2 ½ hour written exam. This examination will examine material covered in Topics 7 to 10 (including the case study covered in Topic 10). The examination will comprise of a number of written questions as well as multiple choice questions.

You are expected to present yourself for examination at the time and place designated in the University Examination Timetable. The timetable will be available in week 9 and can be accessed at www.accg.mq.edu.au/ss/macc/timetables

The only exception to not sitting an examination at the designated time is because of documented illness or unavoidable disruption. In these circumstances you may wish to consider applying for Special Consideration. Information about unavoidable disruption and the special consideration process is available at www.accg.mq.edu.au/ss/macc/examinations

If a Supplementary Examination is granted as a result of the Special Consideration process the examination will be scheduled after the conclusion of the official examination period.

You are advised that it is Macquarie University policy not to set early examinations for individuals or groups of students. All students are expected to ensure that they are available until the end of the teaching semester, that is, the final day of the official examination period.

PLAGIARISM

All assessment is subject to the University's rules and information to students set out in the Handbook of Postgraduate Studies. You are particularly referred to rules of the various postgraduate awards and Student Information regarding Plagiarism and Assessment. (www.student.mq.edu.au/plagiarism).

CHEATING AND PLAGIARISM

To cheat in the context of university assignments, tests and examinations is to attempt to gain an unfair advantage by violating the principles of intellectual and scholarly integrity. Cheating also encompasses plagiarism, which is the appropriation or imitation of another person's ideas and manner of expressing them.

WHAT IS CHEATING?

You will be guilty of cheating if you do any of the following:

1. Copy from another student during a test or examination. This is cheating whether or not there is collusion between the students involved. Collusion with another student who wishes to cheat from you exposes both parties to penalties under University Regulations.
2. Use or paraphrase the work of others, including any document, audio-visual or computer-based material, when preparing an assignment or writing an examination, and pretend it is your own work by not acknowledging where it came from.
3. Copy from another student's coursework whether that copying is with or without the knowledge of that student. This includes:
 - copying all or part of someone else's assignment
 - allowing someone else to copy all or part of your assignment
 - providing your assignment (or other materials for an assignment) to another student
 - having someone else do all or part of an assignment for you
 - doing all or part of someone else's assignment for them.
4. Make up data and fabricate results in research assignments.
5. Impersonate someone else in an examination or test, or arrange such impersonation.
6. Use forbidden material in a test or examination, whether in printed or electronic form. For example, attempting to use a non-standard calculator in a restricted calculator examination.

WHY IS IT WRONG?

If you take and use the work of another person without clearly stating or acknowledging your source, you are falsely claiming that material as your own work and committing an act of plagiarism. This is wrong because it:

- violates the principle of intellectual and scholarly integrity;
- devalues the grades and qualifications gained legitimately by other students; and
- fails to allow you demonstrate your own understanding of the material.

PREVENTING CHEATING

All students and staff have a responsibility to prevent, discourage and report cheating.

Typically students cheat because they are having difficulty with the unit content, the language of the unit, or both. Cheating and/or plagiarism can be a temptation when students are experiencing difficulty with a heavy workload in the unit and seek to save time by using others' work.

To avoid having students resort to cheating, the University provides many services to help students with their course or to make thoughtful decisions about whether to continue. Within the Division of Economic and Financial Studies, students should first seek assistance from their lecturer. Staff at the Centre for Macquarie English are also an excellent resource for plagiarism questions and language issues. The University also offers help through the Dean of Students or the University Health and Counseling Services.

There is a difference between getting help and cheating. You are encouraged to get help if you need assistance to understand the material and any set work so that you are in a better position to create your own answers. You might also want to have group discussions with your colleagues to debate the different issues surrounding a form of assessment. However the work you submit for your assessment must be in your own words and must not be those of another person.

HOW TO PLAY SAFE

To maintain good academic practice, so that you may be given credit for your own efforts, and so that your own contribution can be properly appreciated and evaluated, you should acknowledge your sources and you should ALWAYS:

- (i) State clearly in the appropriate form where you found the material on which you have based your work, using the system of reference specified by the Division in which your assignment was set;
- (ii) Acknowledge the people whose concepts, experiments or results you have extracted, developed or summarised, even if you put these ideas into your own words;
- (iii) Avoid excessive copying of passages by another author, even where the source is acknowledged. Find another form of words to show that you have thought about the material and understood it, but remember to state clearly where you found the ideas.

There is nothing wrong with working with other students in a group; indeed sometimes you will be encouraged to do so. But after a certain point, each student must work on their own to produce their own written answers. If no specific guidelines for group-work have been given, a reasonable interpretation is that it is acceptable for two or more students to discuss a problem among themselves or with a staff member. The group may then agree that the answer should include certain points. But then each member of the group must independently write their own answer to the problem.

PENALTIES

Offences of plagiarism will attract penalties which at a minimum, will result in the deduction of marks for the test and/or assignment, to ultimately a failure in the unit and reference to the University Discipline Committee. The penalty will depend upon the extent of the plagiarism, whether it is a first or repeated offence, whether there is evidence of deliberate deceit and whether advantage has been taken of another student. In some cases this can result in the suspension of the student from enrolment in the university. In all cases however, a record of any offence and/or incident, along with correspondence, will be placed permanently on the students' individual record file held at the university.

DETERMINATION OF OVERALL GRADE

To be eligible to pass the unit it is necessary to perform satisfactorily in all components of the assessment for this unit. Your final grade for the unit will take account of your overall performance (in total) and your individual performance in each of the assessment components. To pass this unit you must:

- a) obtain a pass in the combined examination component (mid-term + final);
- b) satisfactorily submit all computer based assignments and the written assignment; and
- c) obtain an overall pass.

Academic Senate has a set of guidelines on the distribution of grades across the range from fail to high distinction. Your final result will include one of these grades plus a standardised numerical grade (SNG).

Please be aware that scaling may be used and your raw mark (i.e., the total of your marks for each assessment item) may not be the same as the SNG which you receive.

It is important that you realise that the policy does not require that a minimum number of students are to be failed in any unit. In fact it does something like the opposite, in requiring examiners to explain their actions if more than 20% of students fail in a unit. The process of scaling does not change the order of marks among students. A student who receives a higher raw mark than another also receives a higher final scaled mark.

For an explanation of the policy see <http://senate.mq.edu.au/rules/detailedguidelines.doc>.

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES

Macquarie University provides a range of Academic Student Support Services. Details of these services can be accessed at <http://www.student.mq.edu.au>.

Further, CME provides Study Skills workshops for MAcc students. For the timetable, see <http://www.accg.mq.edu.au/macc>.
