BBA303 MARKETING COMMUNICATIONS

UNIT OUTLINE
SEMESTER 1, 2006

Lecture: Friday, 1:00pm – 4:00pm, W5A T1

Unit Convenor: Julian de Meyrick

Prerequisites: BBA203; BBA213

Students in this unit should read the Unit Outline carefully at the beginning of the semester. It contains important information about the unit. If anything in it is unclear, please consult the Unit Convenor.

ABOUT THIS UNIT

- Assumed knowledge: BBA203; BBA213
- Marketing communications embraces an entire range of activities, media and enterprises, all of which have a role to play in communications in marketing strategy. Given a target customer, a product and a pricing strategy, together with decisions on specific distribution channels, a marketing communications programme is essential if the company's marketing offer is to reach the customer and meet customer expectations. The range of communications options available to an organization is large and, in recent years, has increased. Furthermore, the options are becoming quite specific in their application. It follows that a company's communication programme is an integral component of its marketing strategy. This unit explores marketing communications by considering theoretical issues and practical implications of implementation.
- Unit objectives: students will gain an understanding of the real world skills necessary to plan and execute a marketing communications strategy.

TEACHING STAFF

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- The learning outcomes of this unit are ...

Students will be able to demonstrate that they understand how to develop, execute or review and make recommendations or decisions about the worthiness of marketing communications programmes.

Students will be exposed to a range of practical 'marcomms' topics:

- Marketing & selling: their relationship
- Role of marketing communications
- Advertising: creating the brief.
- Public Relations.
- Sponsorships
- Conferences and conventions
- Media planning and buying.
- Direct Marketing B-to-B and B-to-C.
- Selling on the internet.
- Market research.
- Word-of-mouth and referrals.
- Brand valuation and return on investment.

The Macquarie experience is designed to lead students to a career in the city and a place in the world. It encourages life-long learning and links teaching to cutting-edge research.

Macquarie seeks to develop generic skills for students, building flexible outcomes for life and for the workplace over a life's career. These skills include:

- foundation skills of literacy, numeracy and information technology;
- self-awareness and interpersonal skills, such as the capacity for self-management, collaboration and leadership;
- communication skills for effective presentation and cultural understanding;
- critical analysis skills to evaluate, synthesise and judge;
- problem-solving skills to apply and adapt knowledge to the real world; and
- creative thinking skills to imagine, invent and discover.

TEACHING AND LEARNING STRATEGY

- The unit is taught by lecture and major assignment (individual, not group) engaging the topics taught in a practical real world scenario.
- What is expected from students? Read in advance; follow current developments in the market place; be able to apply the lessons of the lectures (reflected in the lecture notes) to the major assignment; respond to questions raised during lectures; demonstrate enthusiasm for the subject; challenge the lecturer's assumptions during lectures and explore opposing points of view.
- Week-by-week list of the topics to be covered.

Lecture 1pm to 4pm	Date 2006	Topics covered	Reference books

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN ASSESSMENT AND LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Statement on the rationale for the modes of assessment (that is, how do the assessment tasks fulfill and evaluate the stated learning outcomes of the unit).

The objective of the major assignment is to encourage students to learn by applying the lessons of the lectures to an imagined 'real world' scenario and demonstrating to the teacher they comprehend the practicalities of conducting a marcomms exercise.

Assessments:

. Marks in this unit will be allocated on the following basis -

- ◆ Final Examination 50%, (i.e. 50 marks)
- ◆ Take-Home Assignment 50% (i.e. 50 marks)

All students are required to pass the final examination to obtain a passing grade for the unit.

- Class participation is not assessable.
- Attendance is not a compulsory requirement for the unit.
- Word length of each form of assessment:

Major assignment...4000 words. Diagrams and illustrations are judged to be equivalent to 300 words.

More words are acceptable if students deem them necessary;

Examination...400 words per answer to essay questions.

- Due dates for assignment: MAY 19th, at 1pm.
Marked work is due to be returned to students JUNE 9th.
- Where students are to hand in their assignments: W5A T1
- Expectations in relation to the presentation of written work:

Assignments are to be typed in ARIAL 12pt typeface.

Pages can be simply stapled together at the top left corner, but it is recommended they be enclosed in a folder for safety.

- Work that is submitted late will be penalised at the rate of 5 marks per day.

EXAMINATION

- Exam date, time and location will be notified in early May.
- Exam duration: 3 hour exam with 10 minutes reading time.
- Format of exam: essay questions.
- Policy on whether a pass in the exam is required for a pass in the unit irrespective of accumulated marks: All students are required to pass the final examination to obtain a passing grade for the unit.
- Policy on calculators: Calculators PDAs, cell phones and other electronic aids are NOT permitted in the exam.
- Policy on dictionaries: Dictionaries are NOT permitted in the exam

The only exception to not sitting an examination at the designated time is because of documented illness or unavoidable disruption. In these circumstances you may wish to consider applying for Special Consideration. Information about unavoidable disruption and the special consideration process is available at <http://www.reg.mq.edu.au/Forms/APSCon.pdf>

You are advised that it is Macquarie University policy not to set early or delayed examinations for individuals or groups of students. All students are expected to ensure that they are available until the end of the teaching semester, that is the final day of the official University examination period, and can attend the exam at the designated time and place.

PLAGIARISM

The University defines plagiarism in its rules: "Plagiarism involves using the work of another person and presenting it as one's own." Plagiarism is a serious breach of the University's rules and carries significant penalties. You must read the University's practices and procedures on plagiarism. These can be found in the Handbook of Postgraduate Studies or on the web at: <http://www.student.mq.edu.au/plagiarism/>

The policies and procedures explain what plagiarism is, how to avoid it, the procedures that will be taken in cases of suspected plagiarism and the penalties if you are found guilty. Penalties may include a deduction of marks, failure in the unit, and/or referral to the University Discipline Committee.

UNIVERSITY POLICY ON GRADING

Academic Senate has a set of guidelines on the distribution of grades across the range from fail to high distinction. Your final result will include one of these grades plus a standardised numerical grade (SNG).

On occasion your raw mark for a unit (i.e., the total of your marks for each assessment item) may not be the same as the SNG which you receive. Under the Senate guidelines, results may be scaled to ensure that there is a degree of comparability across the university, so that units with the same past performances of their students should achieve similar results.

It is important that you realise that the policy does not require that a minimum number of students are to be failed in any unit.

The process of scaling does not change the order of marks among students. A student who receives a higher raw mark than another will also receive a higher final scaled mark.

For an explanation of the policy see

<http://www.mq.edu.au/senate/MQUonly/Issues/Guidelines2003.doc> or

<http://www.mq.edu.au/senate/MQUonly/Issues/detailedguidelines.doc>.

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES

Macquarie University provides a range of Academic Student Support Services. Details of these services can be accessed at <http://www.student.mq.edu.au>

MAJOR ASSIGNMENT

PURPOSE of this assignment is to encourage you to apply, in a practical way, the lessons learned in our lecture series. You can also apply some of the information gathered from your reading list.

VALUE of this assignment is 50% of the marks for the course.

TIMING

The vagaries of the timing of holidays etc during the semester mean that some of the topics useful to your assignment will not have been covered in the lectures by the time you need to hand in your assignment. However, you are encouraged to read ahead so you can draw from the lecture notes supplied on the website.

LENGTH of assignment should be around 4,000 words - graphs and charts are counted as 300 words.

GUIDANCE

It will be up to you as individual students to consult the lecturer for advice on how to go about the process of developing this assignment. Your opportunity to do this will come when questions are requested during lectures and during the period allotted to "tutorial" in the latter part of the lecture.

QUESTIONS

The best questions are planned and discussed with your fellow students. This is not group work, these are individual assignments. However, you are not in competition with your fellow students and you should take the opportunity to share your concerns with them as you attempt to formulate an appropriate response to this challenge.

By their very nature, briefs are brief! You will be developing a combination plan and briefing document that will need to inform and occasionally instruct your various suppliers of services. Your advertising agency, your PR agency, market researchers, events organizers, media planners etc. will all need to know the way you think about this problem and what, in broad terms, you expect from each of them in their particular unique roles as specialist service providers.

- ◆ What do you expect of each different supplier?
- ◆ What do you see as their responsibilities to each other as contributors to a mutually successful team?
- ◆ How will you judge their performance?
- ◆ What is your timetable of expectations from them?

This is rather a large challenge.

Start EARLY! And start asking questions early!

TASK

Imagine you are the Chief Executive of a small but ambitious Australian shoe company making sports shoes from kangaroo skin for a worldwide market.

Because you are a small company, you also take responsibility for marketing and sales activities. Outside suppliers such as an advertising agency and a PR company assist you in your marketing communications endeavours.

You focus on kangaroo skin as your primary product content because it is extremely durable and lightweight. Gram for gram, it is the lightest, toughest, most durable leather in the world.

Tanned kangaroo skin is also freely available in Australia at relatively low cost on a continuing, non-seasonal basis.

It is also unique to Australia and readily identified by people anywhere in the world as being sourced from Australia.

In 2005 your company sold 10,000 pairs of jogging shoes per month in Australia and exported 50,000 pairs per month to overseas markets, mainly to the state of Texas in USA, but also to the United Kingdom.

Your goal in 2006 is to maintain local sales at 10,000 a month, but treble exports by expanding distribution and demand in the US market by selling in other states.

In 2007 you will double or perhaps quadruple that figure again by expanding distribution to other world markets such as Japan, China and Thailand.

Your shoes sell at a "premium" price under the respected brand name "Diggaroo". High margins maintain high profits and solid marketing budgets for factory and distributors and retailers alike.

Develop a marketing communications campaign for Diggaroos that will engage all you have learned in our lecture series to achieve your company's sales ambitions.
