"MANAGEMENT OF PEOPLE AT WORK"
(BUS850)

UNIT OUTLINE

Second Semester, 2006

Introduction

Welcome, and thank you for joining our seminar group this semester. I look forward to your participation and contribution to our sessions during the coming weeks.

Your unit lecturer this semester is Mr. Noel Ford (M.L.L.R., B.Bus). My contact details are as follows:

Telephone (Office): (02) 9678-7532
Mobile: 0414-015-845
E-Mail: noelford@ozemail.com.au

Classes during First Semester will be held on Monday evenings between 6.00 pm – 9.00 pm commencing Monday 31 July, 2006.

I am happy to speak to students about the course at any time. Given that I am an Adjunct Lecturer, and therefore not on campus full-time, it is best to contact me by phone or e-mail to either raise your questions directly or to arrange an appointment (normally before class). I want to give each student every reasonable opportunity of successfully completing this course whilst benefiting from an exposure to the theoretical and practical aspects of contemporary employee/workplace management (hopefully, you will also enjoy the subject!).

Scope

This unit will analyse many of the processes and practices required to effectively conduct a range of people management responsibilities. Human Resource and Employee/Workplace Relations Management are functions receiving significant attention due to increasing statutory compliance and the ongoing competition for the recruitment and retention of “talent”. Many of the traditional H.R. activities have been devolved to those managers and executives responsible for the day-to-day management of their staff, requiring the development of a more enhanced skill set as “generalist” managers. This unit will assist in preparing current and future managers and executives to be more effective within such an environment.
Materials

(i) Prescribed Text

It is strongly recommended that the following text be obtained. It is quite a good Australian-authored text with an international orientation upon which the core component of the course structure is based.

Another advantage of the Stone text is that the publishers have established a website for students (www.johnwiley.com.au/highered/hrm5e). On this website you will find practice tests, online exercises and online references.

(ii) Reference Books

The following texts will be useful for research purposes, supplementary reading, assignments and general interest. The range of contemporary texts now on the market is fairly substantial. Suggestions include:

(iii) Journals, Articles, etc

CCH Australia, Butterworths, et al produce very good loose-leaf subscription services available in the Reference Section of the library. It is worthwhile examining these comprehensive ranges of publications. Other journals include:

Asia Pacific Journal of Human Resources (Aust)
Journal of Industrial Relations (Aust)
Australian Journal of Labour Law (Aust)
Journal of Compensation and Benefits (USA)
Harvard Business Review (USA) (www.hbsp.harvard.edu)
(iv) Distributed Materials

From time to time I shall distribute various materials in class such as newspaper articles, case studies, etc. It is the responsibility of each student to make sure that they obtain any materials distributed in class when not present.

Assessment Regime

Assessment will be as follows:

(1) Tutorial Presentation and Paper – 15 minute in-class presentation (students to work in pairs) together with a joint 1000 word paper to be distributed to the class – 10% of the final grade. Student pairs and presentation topics & dates to be determined in class.

(2) Research Paper on a contemporary issue – 2000 words – 20% of the final grade. Due for submission in E.R.I.C. at 6.00 pm on Monday 4 September 2006.

(3) Major Assignment – 3000 words – 40% of the final grade. Due for submission in E.R.I.C. at 6.00 pm on Monday 9 October 2006.

(4) Examination (closed book) – 2 hours plus 10 minutes reading time – 30% of the final grade. Exam to be held during class time on Monday 6 November 2006 (6.00 pm – 8.10 pm). The examination questions will consist of two parts (Part A & Part B). Part A is of the short answer type, whilst Part B is a case study. Please note that the examination questions will not be able to be answered satisfactorily by merely reciting unit materials. The examination questions are designed to elicit analysis and thought of your understanding of the topics within the unit programme requiring evaluation, judgement, analysis, assessment and the like. Please note that dictionaries are not permitted into the examination unless prior written permission is obtained from the Faculty.

The word length for the Tutorial Paper, Research Paper and the Major Assignment must be within the stipulated length (not including footnotes and bibliography, which must nevertheless be supplied). Papers that depart significantly from the designated length will be penalised.

Plagiarism Policy: Students should be aware that heavy penalties will be applied when plagiarism has been found to occur. Macquarie University’s policy on plagiarism appears at: http://www.student.mq.edu.au/plagiarism/.

Extensions Policy: The Research Paper and Major Assignment topics are being distributed in the first class so that ample time is being allowed for each task. Extensions of time will not be granted, save in exceptional, documented emergencies, e.g., significant illness or injury close to the due date. We all have demanding commitments, therefore workplace demands will not secure an extension.

Please also note that a satisfactory pass in the course will only be possible by regular attendance (as per Faculty determination) and by successfully attempting and completing all assessable components within the course.

Research Paper Topics

Answer one of the following:

1) How can an organisation provide employees with opportunities to build their own skills and enhance their marketability without compromising the business goals of the organisation? Discuss.

2)
Major Assignment

You are the Director of Corporate Services for a medium sized service organisation. Your company employs over 4000 staff across Australia providing a wide range of business services to small and medium enterprises (SMEs). You are a new appointment to the position, specifically selected due to your previous successes in achieving business reform with other organisations within the industry.

The Board of Directors has determined to outsource, reduce or eliminate all “non-core” business activities within the company. Human Resource Management is one such business activity under review.

Your task is to prepare a business plan in order to examine and evaluate the feasibility of such an approach. Your paper must consider the how the following activities may be outsourced (within a timeframe of the next 12 months) with specific reference to the following:

- Human Resource Planning
- Staff Recruitment and Retention
- Remuneration Management
- Performance Management
- Human Resource Development

The budget for the project is $750,000. The paper is to be presented as a proposal, with your recommendations, to the Board of Directors for their approval. A project management approach to the design of the paper is therefore required, inclusive of cost-benefit analyses, examination of the current performance of in-house services in comparison to a proposed outsourcing of services, implementation timetable and transition management considerations.
