Students should read the Unit Outline carefully at the beginning of the semester. It contains important information about the unit. If anything is unclear, please consult the unit convenor.
BBA 313 - MARKETING MANAGEMENT:
EFFECTIVENESS AND EFFICIENCY

About this Unit

Your previous marketing units have introduced the detail of product, pricing, distribution and communications issues for individual management decision making. As you conclude your degree and the marketing elective, this subject brings together the marketing mix and allows you to understand how they work together to maximize marketing objectives and ultimately provide a return to shareholders.

This unit will provide an understanding of the creation of shareholder value, by identifying emerging opportunities, considering marketing mistakes and successes as they apply marketing strategies, and identifying marketing strategies that allow firms to grow and build lasting relationships with customers.

Learning Outcomes

The objectives of this unit are:

- To develop an understanding of the process of identifying, evaluating, and implementing a marketing orientation and associated strategies.
- To understand the inter-functional processes of marketing functions in the marketing strategy and implementation processes.
- To understand how to measure the contribution of marketing to the overall organizational performance and value.
- To develop an understanding of the factors behind marketing mistakes.
Culture of the Seminars

This unit is designed to provide a “hands-on” learning experience in marketing analysis and planning. This is not just a lecture-oriented course with a set of topics to be covered in a semester. Rather, this is a course where much of the learning takes place outside of the formal classroom setting. In addition to your private study time, some time needs to be allocated to group work. This will include completion of the case studies and other set learning tasks. The benefits to you will be directly related to the quality and quantity of the effort you expend on course-related activities. It is up to you.

The unit is very open-ended. The lecture material will provide a basis for analysis in the other components of the unit. Case studies allow you to see what does and does not work in the practical sense, through investigation of marketing mistakes.

Relationship between Assessment and Learning Outcomes

There will be five items of assessment including both group and individual work.

Summary of Assessment Components

Group:
1. Case Presentation 30 marks
2. A Simulation 10 marks

Individual:
3. Participation 10 marks
4. Take Home Exam 20 marks
   Length: 2 500 words
   Due Date: 12 noon, 6th November, 2007.
5. Final Examination (which you must pass to pass the unit) 30 marks

The assessment items are explained below.

Assessment

1. Case Presentation 30 marks

   Due: The date of your allocated presentation
   Length: 45 minutes + overheads used + 2,500 word report on your content
   Content: Creative, entertaining, unusual formats are rewarded

   In Week One you will nominate your groups and be allocated a group presentation from the text, Hartley, “Marketing Mistakes and Successes” (10th edition). For this group presentation you are to present the case for 45 minutes. This component is worth 15 marks.
The presentation:
This will be completed in groups of five to seven students. It will be a vehicle for participants to demonstrate their understanding and apply the concepts introduced to you in the many marketing subjects to which you have been exposed. Marks for the presentation will be awarded for creativity, entertainment (and keeping the audience awake especially in the evening lectures), the appropriate use of visual aids and other means of presenting your analysis of the case. Presentations are expected to be 30-40 minutes each, with an additional 5-10 minutes for discussion and questions. Your allotted time is 45 minutes in total.

You will complete this task by predominantly drawing on the case in the text, developing a synopsis of the case, answering the following general questions:

IF A MISTAKE STORY
- How could the mistake/s have been avoided?
- Given the mistake/s occurred, how could the reaction have been better handled to minimise the full seriousness of the problem?

IF A SUCCESS STORY
- Are there any flaws, limitations, or threats to the present successful strategy?
- What course of action should be pursued to maintain the growth and success?

There are also Questions, “Issue Boxes” and “Information Boxes” contained within the chapter. Where relevant, present this information as part of your analysis. Whatever the focus, you should ensure that you have addressed the relevant marketing theories as they relate to the case. You are expected to submit an outline of your presentation (e.g. Overheads, or PowerPoint presentation) and a 2,500 report on the content of your presentation to the lecturer prior to the presentation.

An Additional Note: It is important that even when you are not presenting a case, that you come prepared to each lecture having read the case so that more effective learning can take place. These cases are all contained within the final exam. The preparation that you do during semester will make your study that much more productive for this component of the course.

2. A Simulation

THE MARKETING GAME SIMULATION DECISIONS
Due: Weekly for 8 weeks
(from Week 3 to Week 8)
See lecture schedule as it includes decisions during mid-semester break!

Length: As long as weekly meetings take your group

In Week One you nominated groups. This group is also to work together for The Marketing Game. It is a simulation game that allows your team to run a firm, making a range of marketing and management decisions. The product category is a new type of voice recognition device (VRD). The focus of this course is shareholder value through marketing strategies therefore the performance will be assessed on this basis. The team with the best performance will receive a prize at the end of semester.

You will be starting the game at level 3.
At level 3, firms compete with multiple products in a number of channels.
You will be competing in an industry of 4 firms.
The simulation provides your firm with market research and financial statements in order make decisions in regards to marketing strategy.
Your basic objectives are to use the resources of the firm wisely to meet target customer needs and contribute to the firm’s profit.

The simulation will run for 8 decision periods. (See the lecture schedule for the specific dates decisions are due). Decisions are to be submitted via email. No late decisions can be accepted. If your decision does not arrive on time, the previous week’s decision will be re-run. The results files will be available via email within 24 hours (all being well!).

Marks will be allocated on performance of the firm throughout the game.

Participation
10 marks

You are expected to attend all seminars. Each week there are tasks to prepare, prior to the seminar. In class you may be called upon, randomly, to contribute your answers during the seminar session. This will form the basis of your participation mark. You must be present in body, mind and soul! A courteous email to indicate absence prior to the seminar would be gratefully appreciated.

From time to time, the lecturer will ask for a submission of the prepared notes, questions, answers etc., so it is in your best interests to ensure that you come totally prepared for all seminars.

Marketing Game Take Home Exam
20 marks

Date to be released: AT 5.00PM, FRIDAY, 2ND NOVEMBER, 2007.
(collect from ERIC or locate on WebCT Unit Page)

Due Date to be returned: AT 12.00 NOON, TUESDAY, 6TH NOVEMBER, 2007.
(Please submit at ERIC)

Length: 4,000 words maximum
Typed, 12 point, New Times Roman, double spaced.

To be able to complete this take home exam you should collect and prepare the following data during the simulation:

1. Profit and loss summaries including:
• for each period, record the budget, actual and %variance) against each item on the P&L.
• a one page summary of results and the explanation of variance from budgets (use graphs where appropriate).

2. Situation analysis
• include market analysis (size, growth, etc), macro environmental issues, customer analysis, competitor analysis, company analysis etc.
• consider tracking trends for all of the above over the 8 decision periods
• use excel spreadsheets with passion

3. Individually ensure you keep a record of all data so you can complete this take home exam at the end of the semester. It will be too late be able to pass this component if you leave it to the end of semester. A suggestion would be to keep a record of your meetings and the decisions (4P’s in particular) on the Marketing Planning Proforma forms at the end of The Marketing Game textbook.

The specific questions will be handed out on the date allocated above. See lecture schedule for planning this in your diary.

Final Examination 30 marks

The fourth assessment will be the final examination, worth 40% of the total grade and which must be passed if a pass in the unit is to be obtained. The examination will be three hours. Details of the structure will be provided later in the semester. The exam may include material covered in the lectures, including theory, the case studies and the marketing game as well as any other additional material given throughout the unit.

The usual requirements for Special Consideration and Supplementary Examinations will apply and these are detailed below, together with other important conditions.

Grades

In each of the assessable components, a mark of 50% will constitute a satisfactory level of performance. However, to obtain a pass in this subject, students must demonstrate a satisfactory level of achievement (i.e. 50% of the marks available) both in the final examination and in the subject overall. Note that the final exam must be passed before any other assessment marks will be added to it.

Examinations

The University examination period for the second half year 2007 is to be advised. You are expected to present yourself for examination at the time and place designated in the University Examination Timetable. The timetable will be available in Draft form approximately eight weeks before the commencement of the examinations and in Final form approximately four weeks before the commencement of the examinations.
http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au/exam

The only exception to not sitting an examination at the designated time is because of documented illness or unavoidable disruption. In these circumstances you may wish to consider applying for Special Consideration. Information about unavoidable disruption and the special consideration process is available at:

If a Supplementary Examination is granted as a result of the Special Consideration process the examination will be scheduled after the conclusion of the official examination period.
You are advised that it is Macquarie University policy not to set early examinations for individuals or groups of students. All students are expected to ensure that they are available until the end of the teaching semester, that is, the final day of the official examination period.
Plagiarism

The University defines plagiarism in its rules: "Plagiarism involves using the work of another person and presenting it as one's own." Plagiarism is a serious breach of the University's rules and carries significant penalties. You must read the University's practices and procedures on plagiarism. These can be found in the Handbook of Undergraduate Studies or on the web at: http://www.student.mq.edu.au/plagiarism/

The policies and procedures explain what plagiarism is, how to avoid it, the procedures that will be taken in cases of suspected plagiarism, and the penalties if you are found guilty. Penalties may include a deduction of marks, failure in the unit, and/or referral to the University Discipline Committee.

University Policy on Grading

Academic Senate has a set of guidelines on the distribution of grades across the range from fail to high distinction. Your final result will include one of these grades plus a standardised numerical grade (SNG). On occasion your raw mark for a unit (i.e., the total of your marks for each assessment item) may not be the same as the SNG which you receive. Under the Senate guidelines, results may be scaled to ensure that there is a degree of comparability across the university, so that units with the same past performances of their students should achieve similar results. It is important that you realise that the policy does not require that a minimum number of students are to be failed in any unit. In fact it does something like the opposite, in requiring examiners to explain their actions if more than 20% of students fail in a unit. The process of scaling does not change the order of marks among students. A student who receives a higher raw mark than another will also receive a higher final scaled mark. For an explanation of the policy see http://www.mq.edu.au/senate/MQUonly/Issues/Guidelines2003.doc or http://www.mq.edu.au/senate/MQUonly/Issues/detailedguidelines.doc.

Support Services for Students

Macquarie University provides a range of Academic Student Support Services. Details of these services can be accessed at: http://www.student.mq.edu.au

Classroom Etiquette

Students are expected to arrive on time, certainly before five minutes past the hour, and not to leave until the class ends. If you have a recurring problem that makes you late, or forces you to leave early, have the courtesy to discuss this with your lecturer/tutor. Students are expected to be quiet during lectures unless, of course, class participation is required. Mobiles should be turned off during classes; not simply set to “silent”.
